

COMPUTER SYSTEM REVIEW

Do your computer systems give you what you want? Do they let you down? Is their potential being exploited? Who do you turn to when you need help?

We are offering a full day's review of your Business's computer system.

- An introductory briefing, to make sure that we can concentrate on the issues that are important to you.
- A comprehensive review of your systems: your equipment and software, and the jobs they do for you; issues of reliability and security, etc.
- A closing meeting, for you to hear preliminary conclusions and ask questions
- If you wish, a written report of our findings, conclusions and recommendations.

The review will be carried out by two experienced consultants (each with more than 20 years IT experience) independent from any computer system supplier.

We offer to undertake the review for a fixed price of £950 + VAT. We are confident that you will gain from the review. However, if you do not consider it good value for money, tell us at the end of the day and we will not bill you.

Other services. We also undertake

- project and system reviews
- procurement exercises
- QA audit
